

Division: School of Economics and Management

Academic programme: 38.04.01 Economics, Economics and Management in Construction

Mode of study: part-time

Programme length: 2.5 years

Programme level: Master's degree

Language of instruction: Russian

Programme description:

The training is grounded in knowledge in the field of building information modelling (BIM), on the basis of which management decisions on planning, organization and progress of construction and installation works at facilities are made. Graduates of the programme can apply to be included in the national register of organization specialists

Main programme-specific classes:

- Digital Modelling of Controlled Object
- Automation of Cost Estimates Development
- Economics and Analysis of Economic Activity of a Construction Organization
- Management and Strategic Analysis of a Construction Project

Programme manager: Sergey I. Borodin, Candidate of Sciences (Economics), Associate Professor of the Department of Digital Economics and Information Technologies